Messrs. Griffin and Jackson, land brokers and real estate agents in this city, have just issued for distribution a nearly bound pamphlet entitled "Facts About Southside Virginia." This little book contains information of value to the people in this section, and reflects much credit on the firm issuing them. Hundreds of requests from the West and Northwest have already come for these books.

MANASSAS, VA., October 16.—The attorneys practicing at the Prince William county bar, as well as every attorney in this judicial circuit, are in hopes that Judge Charles E. Nicol will finally decide not to retire from the bench.

Upon the adjournment of the Circuit Court yesterday resolutions were read and ordered to be spread upon the minute book expressing these sentiments.

Judge Nicol stated that he still had the matter of his retirement under consideration, and that the wishes of the members of the bar would have great weight with him in reaching a conclusion in the matter.

Should Judge Nicol decide to retire from the bench, the Prince William bar will, with the exception of one or two members, support Mr. John M. Johnson, of Alexandria, for the position.

Judge Nicol is now in Richmond attending the Horse Show.

Obstrict Without Schools.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

YORKTOWN, VA.. Oct. 16.—As matters stand now, there is every reason to believe that Grafton District of York county will be without any schools during the present session. In conversation with a member of the Board of Trustees it is learned that for some time past there has been considerable friction between the board and superintendent of schools. Mr. J. Sam. Philipps has refused to endorse the certificates of applicants whom the board favored, and in retaliation, the gentlemenhave decided to refuse to appoint those of the superintendent's selection. Te district contains five or six white schools and several colored. Unless a truce can be patched up between the officials, the district will suffer the loss of educational facilities this session.

The contestants were a young man from Richmond and one from Barton Heights. The fighting was pretty brisk for a while, and it was reported yesterday that one of the young men had to be carried home in a cab.

CITIZENS' ASSOCIATION.

While this fight was in progress the Citizens' Association, the president of which had used his best endeavors to prevent the match, was in session a short distance off. The association was recently organized and is rapidly developing into a power for good. It is a thorrough business-like body, and large improvements to the beautiful' little town will result from its activities.

At the meeting last night a number of suggested improvements were discussed. Several propositions have been made and the association for now propared to accomplish some practical results in the direction pointed out. With a view to reaching a basis for such work, the body delegated the president, the Rev. Dr. R. H. Plit, to inquire into the financial condition of the town; its resources by more taxation or otherwise, and so forth. He will submit a report at the first November meeting.

Among the improvements that have been proposed and that will in the course of time be actually made are several of great importance to the town. A town hall will probably be erected in some central spot and a new school house, well located, with ample yard space, is also contemplated. An excellent spring supplies an abundance of water for central spot and a new school house, well located, with ample yard space, is also contemplated. An excellent spring supplies an abundance of water for the town, but the system of delivering this water is rather antiquated. A large tank will be installed and the facilities for supplying water for the household and in case of fire will be very greatly improved.

Considerable attention will be given to the roads. There will be more of them, and they will be kept in better condition. The approach to the town from the bridge will be improved. The old streets that used to connect with the turnpike will be restored. An effort will be made to get a road connecting Barton Heights across the turnpike will be connected. An effort will be made to get a road connecting Barton Heights across the turnpike will be constructed. Another road will run from Barton Heights to Brook turnpike. The general pavement and sanitary conditions will also be looked after.

It must not be inferred from the activity displayed by the association that there is any dissatisfaction with the present administration of the affairs of the town. On the contrary, the administration is generally very heartily endorred. It is the endeavor of the association, however, to buttress and support and assist the Council in whatever it undertakes.

Seeing the harm that had been done by the fire, Willie exclaimed: "Oh! what a pity." Then she fell over and died.

pity." Then she fell over and died.
There were two victims, both girls, of the explosion which happened yesterday near Bosley, N. C., forty miles south of Suffolk. Willie Russell and Armie Rountree, cousins, lived with their grandmother near Bosley. The men folk had gone to court, and only the two girls, their grandmother, Mrs. Emily Ward, and a servant were on the plantation. Mrs. a servant were on the plantation. Ward sent the girls home to build a ward sent the girls nome to but a life in the range. The half-gallon of oil, which they used to make the fire with, exploded and both girls were enveloped with flames. They ran for a horse trough, in which they immersed themselves, but to no avail.

When found all the girls' clothing was was burned away except Armie's collar was burned away except Armie's collar band and Willie's waistband. Willie lived nine hours, Armie four. The girls were burled side by side in the same grave-yard. People from many miles around attended the obsequies.

COULD NOT SLEEP FOR COUGH-ING.

"In the winter of 1903 I contracted a severe cold, and it resulted in pneumonia," says Mr. Bert Hatch, of South Dayton, N. Y. "For five days and nights I could not sleep; was constantly coughing. Mr. J. J. Rundell, knowing of my illness, sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and in a short time it gave me relief so that I could sleep, and two bottles of the remedy cured me. I had taken five different remedies, but could get no relief until I began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, Too much cannot be said for such a medicine." When a druggist takes the liberty of sending a medicine to a friend, you may know that the remedy sent is a good one. For sale by all druggists.
